7 February 1958

Mr. Dulles:

Bob Cushman called me and asked that the following, at the request of the Vice President, be passed on to you:

An NBC official by the name of Wheeler, stationed in London, recently attended a social affair at which Amb. Malik was present. Malik suggested to Wheeler in connection with East-West cultural exchanges it might be a good idea if Khrushchev would take a group of Americans on a tour of the Kremlin and in turn the Vice President reciprocate by taking a group of Russians through the White House. It was Malik's idea that these tours be filmed and televised in the US and USSR.

Bob stated that the above information has been passed to the Department of State.
